Weather Radio Tornado – 30 sec.

The best way to protect you and your family during severe weather is to have NOAA weather radio all hazards. The radio will tell you when a tornado watch is effect because storm conditions are ripe for a twister. And if a tornado is actually spotted, a tornado warning will be issued to tell you to get to shelter. The radio's alarm feature can wake you up at night to warn you to seek appropriate shelter immediately. Most electronics stores sell weather radios. Look for a radio with S-A-M-E technology that lets you program it to alert you only for the emergencies that affect your area. For more information, go to ReadyWisconsin.wi.gov.
